

I am an active cyclist, and I'm scared to death to get on the roads with vehicles, all thanks to the Bob & Madison show. I have been run off the road many times. I have every right to be on the roads. I don't think a "4 day weekend" (suspension) is enough for someone "joking" about doing bodily harm to others. That is not a joke. Is it ok for the listeners takes it upon themselves to run a small child over while they were riding their bike on a public road (neighborhood) b/c they were in the way? It doesn't matter if it's a small child or an 80 year old, it is wrong to to inflict harm to others. I don't believe the DJ's were joking. A good friend of mine layed in the ICU for 2 weeks, after being hit by a lady who grew impatient at a traffic light. My friend lost a kidney, her spleen, broke every rib (front and back) punctured a lung. She is luckily here today. I know so many of my friends who are not so lucky. Most were accidents, but a growing number are from idiot drivers who listen to people like Bob & Madison, and think it's right to run cyclists off the roads. Something needs to be done, an apology isn't going to cut it. Clear Channel and Bob & Madison and any other morning show that have made comments like these (know of 3) should be held responsible for any cycling deaths in that state.

Thank you!
